COURSE DESCRIPTION

The Bachelor Program in Computer Application (BCA) at Aster Academy is one of the most popular choices for learners who want to build a career in information technology. It is designed for those interested in computers who want to work in the IT sector, whether in software, web, data or business technology roles.

Over three years, learners study computer fundamentals, database management systems, web designing, computer science, computer graphics and an introduction to IT, alongside the business subjects that IT professionals increasingly need: principles and general management, e-commerce, accounting applications, financial accounting, managerial economics, business law, business environment, organisational behaviour and HR management.

With the rapid growth of India's IT industry, demand for computer professionals keeps rising. Delivered through our flexible online learning ecosystem, with a fast-track option, the programme prepares graduates for roles such as web designer, database assistant, IT support executive, computer operator and junior developer, or for further postgraduate study such as an MCA or MBA.
